THE PARLIAMENTARY REVIEW.

Contents of the First Volume for the Session of 1833.

THE PARLIAMENTARY REVIEWER.

	Page
Opening of the First Session of the First Reformed Parliament	1
Description of the House of Commons	2
Arrangement of Members in the House according to Parties	3
Admission of Strangers into the House a violation of Standing Orders	4
Admission into the Gallery of the House obtained by payment of 2s 6d.	4
Inefficiency of the present House to accommodate the actual Members	5
Bad situation of the present, and absolute necessity for a New House	5
Necessity for a Reform in the Rules, Orders, Regulations, &c. of the House	5
Difficulties experienced by many of the New Members in taking up their first position in the House	6
The Commons summoned to Upper House to hear H. M. Commission read	6
Description of the House of Lords	6
Subdivision of parties in the House of Lords	6
Arrangement of the Ministers	7
Grotesque costume of His Majesty's Commissioners	7
Reading of the Royal Commission	8
Address of the Lord Chancellor to the Commons	8
Discussion in the House of Commons on the Election of their Speaker	9
Mr. Littleton proposed by Mr. Hume	9
Lord Morpeth's speech proposing Mr. Manners Sutton	9
Sir F. Burdett's speech, seconding Lord Morpeth	11
Mr. Littleton, begging Mr. Hume to withdraw his motion	11
Lord Althorp in explanation of the part which Ministers had taken in the election of the Speaker	12
Remarks on Lord Althorp's character, and the estimation in which he is held by the House	12
Description of Mr. Cobbett's appearance	12
Mr. Cobbett, explaining his grounds of objection to Mr. M. Sutton's election	13
Mr. Manners Sutton's address to the House	14
Mr. Manners Sutton elected by a majority of 241 to 31	14
General ignorance of the Members respecting the nature of the Act by which the Speaker's pension was granted	15
Remarks on the propriety of Mr. Manners Sutton's election	15
Attendance of the Speaker with Lord Morpeth, Sir F. Burdett, and two hundred Members in the House of Lords	16
Interchange of compliments and congratulations on the occasion of the Speaker's appointment	16
Swearing in of the Members	17
Attendance of the Commons at the House of Lords to hear the King's speech	18
Description of the scene	18
His Majesty's Speech to the Lords and Commons	20
Mover and seconder of the Address in the Lords	21
Nature and object of the Address	22
Lord Aberdeen's opposition to the Address	22
Lord Grey defending the Ministry	22
The Duke of Wellington in condemnation of their Foreign Policy	22
Intentions of Ministers explained by Lord Althorp	22
Lord Ormelie and Mr. J. Marshall mover and seconder of the Address in the House of Commons	23

Page

Mr. O'Connell in opposition to the Address - - - - 23
Mr. Richards, regretting that no allusion was made in the Speech to the distresses of England - - - - - 23
Mr. Stanley in reply—His general appearance and style of oratory - 24
Col. Davies protesting against the measures proposed for Ireland - 24
Mr. Roebuck against the employment of force for Ireland - - 25
Lord Althorp in reply - - - - - 25
Mr. Hill, recommending the House to grant Ministers the powers demanded 25
Mr. Lalor, in confirmation of Mr. O'Connell's statement regarding Ireland 25
Alterations proposed to be moved by Lord Althorp as to the time of sitting of the House - - - - - - 25
Announcement of Lord Althorp that the Government had under consideration a measure for the emancipation of the Slaves - - 26
Mr. E. L. Bulwer against granting Ministers the power to employ additional force in Ireland - - - - - - 26
Mr. Tennyson, regretting the demand made by Ministers - - 26
Mr. Macauley, on the repeal of the Union - - - - 26
Remarks on Mr. Macauley's speech - - - - 26
Mr. Sheil in reply to Mr. Macauley - - - - - 27
Mr. C. Grant, calling the attention of the House to the question before it - 27
Mr. D. Harvey advising measures of relief rather than coercion for Ireland 27
Lord John Russell contending that force was necessary to put down the outrages committed in Ireland - - - - 28
Mr. Ewart objecting to the powers asked for being granted - - 28
Sir R. Inglis alarmed at the proposition contained in the Speech for a different distribution of Church Property - - - 28
Mr. Barron, appealing to the House for justice, rather than new force, in behalf of Ireland - - - - - - 28
Reasons why many Members find it impossible to speak at all on any particular subject - - - - - - 28
Mr. Hume objecting to the meagreness of the King's Speech - - 57
Mr. Cobbett stating the reasons alleged by America for rebelling against England, and shewing them to be such as might be used by Ireland - 57
Lord Ebrington's speech, endeavouring to prove that the miseries of Ireland arise from a source over which the Legislature has no control - 58
Remarks in refutation of Lord Ebrington's opinions - - - 58
Sir Robert Peel in favour of the grant demanded by Ministers, and deprecating any violation of Church Property - - - - 59
Remarks on Sir Robert Peel's powers and style of oratory - - 60
Remarks on the inconvenience of Members occupying the attention of the House when they have nothing new to say on the subject before it - 60
Mr. J. Browne, against the measure proposed for Ireland - - 62
Mr. Rourke, seconding Mr. O'Connell's amendment for the House going into Committee on the Address - - - - 62
Mr. Peter, urging the necessity of remedial measures accompanying, or even preceding, coercive ones - - - - 62
Col. Torrens recommending emigration for Ireland - - - 62
Remarks on Col. Torrens' opinions - - - - 63
Mr. Briscoe in support of the Address - - - - 63
Dr. Lushington upbraiding the Irish Members with being intent upon subverting the Established Church in Ireland - - - 63
Division on Mr. O'Connell's amendment - - - - 65
Impossibility of drawing inference as to state of parties from those divisions 65
Report of the Select Committee on the Case of Mr. Pease, the Quaker member, brought up by Mr. Wynn - - - - 65
Mr. Wynn's intended motion that the affirmation of Mr. Pease should be received in lieu of an oath - - - - 65
Motion that the Report on the Address be brought up - - 65
Mr. Langdale, in refutation of Dr. Lushington on the previous evening - 65
Mr. O'Connell on the actual distress of the labouring poor in Ireland - 66
Remarks on Mr. O'Connell's speech - - - - 66
Mr. Spring Rice in reply to Mr. O'Connell - - - - 67

Page
Remarks on Mr. Rice's speech - - - - - 68
Mr. Cobbett, combating the doctrine of increased exports and imports proving increased happiness - - - - - - 69
Mr. Cobbett's motion, that the whole of the Address, after the words "Most Gracious Majesty," be omitted - - - - 69
Mr. Cobbett, exposing the apostacy of Lord Plunkett - - - 69
Mr. Fielden, in support of Mr. Cobbett's amended Address - - 70
Mr. Attwood, depicting the misery of the English as well as the Irish labourers, and moving an amendment to the Address - - 70
Division on Mr. Cobbett's amended Address - - - - 70
Mr. Attwood's amendment negatived - - - - - 70
His Majesty's answer to the Address communicated to the House by the Speaker - - - - - - - - - 70
Bill for the revision of the Irish Church Establishment, by Lord Althorp 70
Outlines of the plan of revision proposed by Government - - 70
Remarks on the Bill - - - - - - - 72
Case of Sir Harry Neale, brought forward by the Marquis of Chandos - 72
Subject of the East India Company's Charter, noticed - - - 73
Mr. C. Grant, stating that it was under the consideration of the Government and the Court of Directors - - - - - - 73
Indications of the advancement of the work of Reform in the Lower House 121
Lord Althorp's speech on his motion for a Select Committee to enquire into the state of existing Corporations in England and Ireland - - 121
Mr. Hume's motion on naval and military sinecures - - - 122
Lord Althorp's speech in opposition to Mr. Hume's motion - - 123
Remarks on Lord Althorp's speech - - - - - 124
Lord George Lennox, defending Lord Althorp's views - - - 124
Colonel Williams, advocating Mr. Hume's resolutions - - - 124
Curious manner in which Mr. Williams introduced himself to the House - 124
Sir James Graham's defence of the naval and military sinecures - - 125
Remarks on Sir James Graham's speech - - - - - 125
Sir John Hobhouse's speech in defence of military and naval sinecures - 129
Remarks on Sir John Hobhouse's speech - - - - - 129
Sir Francis Burdett's speech in favour of naval and military sinecures - 131
Remarks on Sir Francis Burdett's speech - - - - - 132
Division on the motion for abolishing naval and military sinecures - 132
Irish Disturbances Bill, brought in by Lord Grey - - - - 133
Lord Grey's speech and development of the measures proposed by the Bill 133
Outline and principal enactments of the Bill - - - - 133
Remarks on the measures proposed for Ireland - - - - 135
The Duke of Wellington, in support of the Bill - - - - 136
Lord Brougham's speech in justification of the measure - - - 136
Remarks on Lord Brougham's speech - - - - - 137
Second reading of the Irish Disturbances' Bill - - - - 138
Duke of Wellington's speech in favour of the Bill - - - - 138
Suspicion of the country, as to the measures proposed, likely to be excited by the alliance of the Duke of Wellington and Sir R. Peel with Ministers 138
Earl Grey's speech, expressing his gratitude for the Duke's support - 139
Passing of the Bill through the second reading - - - - 139
Mr. Cobbett's resolutions relative to the oppressive nature of Stamp Duties 140
Mr. O'Connell on the state of Ireland - - - - - 142
Remarks on the impolicy of the Irish Members in endeavouring exclusively to engross the House, the tone of defiance they have adopted, &c. - 143
Resolutions of Supply, passed - - - - - - 144
Mr. Stanley's speech, and measure for amending Irish Grand Jury System - 144
Mr. O'Connell's speech in favour of Mr. Stanley's measure - - 145
Leave granted to Mr. Stanley to bring in his Bill - - - 145
Mr. O'Connell's motion for extinction of tithes, deferred - - - 145
Leave granted to Mr. Godson to bring in a Bill for amending Law of Patents 145
Mr. Roebuck's resolution respecting the influence of Peers at Elections, withdrawn - - - - - - - 145

Page

Debate, on Lord Althorp's proposed alterations in the hours of attendance at the House, resumed - - - - - - - 145
Resolutions proposed by Lord Althorp - - - - - 146
Resolutions proposed by Sir T. Freemantle - - - - - 147
Resolutions proposed by Mr. Buckingham - - - - - 147
Remarks in justification of Mr. Buckingham's proposed Resolutions - 148
Petition from Liverpool, complaining of gross bribery and corruption, presented by Mr. Bennett - - - - - - - 185
Lord Sandon, assuring the House that there had been no corruption in the last election for Liverpool - - - - - - 185
Sense of the House in favor of appointing a Committee to examine the matter 185
Mr. Matthias Attwood, resisting the reference of Mr. Robert Frank's petition against the Merchant Taylors' Company, to a committee - - 185
Mr. Hill, shewing Mr. Attwood's inconsistency - - - 186
Mr. Slaney's motion for a Select Committeee, to consider the best means of securing open spaces in the vicinity of large towns for the health and comfort of the inhabitants - - - - - - 186
Mr. Hume, moving for returns of the estimates of receipt and expenditure, and expense of collection in the revenue of the country - - 186
Mr. Hume, on the state of lighthouses on the coast of England - - 186
Mr. Pease's speech in support of Mr. Hume - - - - 186
Mr. Harvey's motion for official lists of the divisions in the House - 187
Lord Stormont, objecting to the principle of a Member being responsible to his constituents for his opinions or votes - - - - 187
Lord Althorp, objecting to the details of the plan, but not to the principle 187
The Irish Coercion Bill brought down to the Commons, having passed the third reading in the Lords - - - - - - - 187
Lord Althorp's motion, for the Bill being printed, and the first reading postponed till Wednesday - - - - - - 188
Mr. O'Connell's motion for a call of the House on Wednesday - - 188
Mr. Hume, motion for a return of those holding seats in Parliament who were holders of offices under the Crown, or naval or military officers - 188
Captain Fenton, protesting against the idea that military men were at all influenced in their votes by the commissions they held - - 188
Mr. Roebuck, contending that there should be no disqualification for sitting in the House - - - - - - - 188
Mr. Hume, moving for a return of the recent prosecutions against parties selling unstamped newspapers - - - - - - 188
Mr. M. Attwood, lauding the Honourable Company of Merchant Taylors - 188
Mr. Hill in answer to Mr. Attwood - - - - - 188
Mr. Grote, proving that it was a municipal and not a trading body - 188
Mr. Franks' petition referred to a Committee - - - - 188
Lord Althorp, stating that Captain Berkeley had felt deeply wounded by Mr. Hume's remarks on the subject of naval and military officers holding seats in Parliament - - - - - - - 188
Mr. Hume, disclaiming all intention of personal allusions - - 188
The Speaker, considering the explanation satisfactory - - - 189
Remarks on the sensitiveness of naval and military men - - 189
Petition from the City of London, presented by Mr. Hume, praying that the House would mitigate the severity of the Penal Code - - - 190
Mr. Pease in support of the petition - - - - - 190
The Solicitor-General, concurring in the prayer of the petition, but considering that there were cases of robbery which deserved death - 190
Mr. Buckingham, shewing the error of the argument used by the Solicitor-General - - - - - - - - - 190
Mr. Cutlar Fergusson, surprised at hearing such doctrines, as those put forth by Mr. Buckingham, proclaimed in the House - - 191
Mr. Ewart in support of the petition - - - - - 191
Colonel Torrens, presenting a petition from Bolton against the overworking of children in factories - - - - - - 191
Mr. Fergusson, strongly denouncing the system - - - - 192

Page

Mr. Mark Philips, deprecating the attempt made to influence the public mind against the manufacturers - - - - 192
Mr. T. Attwood, presenting a petition from the Birmingham Political Union against calling in the military at elections - - - - 192
Remarks on the subject of the petition - - - - 192
Mr. Buckingham, supporting the prayer of the petition, and alluding to the interference of the military at Sheffield - - - - 193
Irish Disturbances Bill introduced into the Commons - - 194
Lord Althorp, expressing his deep regret at having such a measure to propose to the House, and detailing the crimes which made it necessary - 194
Mr. Tennyson, moving that the discussion of the Bill should be postponed for a fortnight - - - - - - - 195
Objections to the motion for delay - - - - 195
Mr. E. L. Bulwer, arguing that such a measure could not effect the end proposed - - - - - - 195
Extract from Lord Brougham's speech on the second reading of Reform Bill 196
Mr. Grote, against the measure - - - - - - 197
Captain Berkeley, endeavouring to shew that political agitation was the cause of increased disturbances - - - - 197
Mr. Finn, contending that the change was caused by enforcement of tithes 197
Mr. Stanley, in reply, supporting the measure - - - - 197
Remarks on Mr. Stanley's speech - - - - 198
Charges preferred against Mr. O'Connell by Mr. Stanley - - - 199
Remarks on the attack on Mr. O'Connell - - - - 200
Adjourned debate on the Coercion Bill resumed - - - - 249
Mr. Shiel's speech against the Bill - - - - - 249
Remarks on Mr. Shiel's speech - - - - - - 249
Mr. Macauley's speech, defending the arbitary measures proposed for Ireland 252
Remarks on Mr. Macauley's speech - - - - 253
Mr. J. Romilly's speech combating some of Mr. Macauley's arguments - 254
Extract from the late Sir Samuel Romilly's journal - - - 254
Mr. Fergus O'Connor against the measure - - - - 255
Mr. Carew defending the Bill as far as it should be applied to disturbed districts - - - - - - - - - 255
Major Beauclerk in opposition to the measure - - - 256
Great confusion as to the adjournment of the House - - - 256
Remarks as to the necessity of some specific regulations as to when adjournments shall be made, debates finally closed, &c. - - - 256
Presentations of petitions and desultory discussions - - - 257
Mr. Heathcote deprecating the length to which these discussions were carried 257
Adjourned debate on Ireland resumed by Mr. H. L. Bulwer - - 258
Sir George Grey, stating his intention to vote for the Bill - - - 258
Mr. D. W. Harvey's speech against the Bill - - - 258
Lord John Russell's speech in reply to Mr. Harvey - - - 260
Mr. H. Grattan, appealing to the House against the measure before it - 261
The Attorney-General, in support of the Bill - - - 262
Sir Robert Peel's speech in support of the Bill - - - - 268
Remarks on Sir Robert Peel's speech - - - - 268
Effect of Sir Robert Peel's speech on the House - - - - 269
Remarks on the extreme lateness at which members leave the House - 270
Dr. Baldwin's speech in opposition to the Coercive Bill - - 270
Lord Castlereagh in support of the measure - - - - 271
Major Fancourt's speech, defending Mr. O'Connell and the Irish Members 271
Sir Robert Bateson in favour of the Bill - - - - 272
Mr. Chapman denouncing the measure - - - - - 272
Mr. Lambert in support of the Bill - - - - 272
Mr. Emerson Tennant's speech in favour of the ministerial measure - 272
Remarks on Mr. Tennant's speech - - - - - 273
Mr. Fitzgerald's speech against the measure - - - 274
Remarks on the uncourteous clamour used by the Ministerial party against all Members speaking against the Bill - - - - 274
Lord Duncannon justifying the Bill on the ground of increased crime - 274

Page
Mr. Buckingham's speech in opposition to the measure - - 275
Clamourous interruption, and remarks of Lord Althorp and Mr. O'Connell 277
Captain Bayntum against the Bill - - - - - 279
Mr. Lefroy in defence of the Coercive Bill - - - - - 279
Mr. O'Connell, concluding speech on the first reading of the Bill - - 280
Lord Althorp in reply, and avowing the determination of Ministers to resign if the Bill were not carried - - - - - - 280
Division on the first reading of the Irish Coercive Bill - - - 280
The Negro Slavery Question adverted to by Lord Suffield in the House of Lords, and Mr. Buxton in the Commons - - - - 300
Discussion on the heavy duties on articles imported from the Brazils - 300
Motion for a Committee to enquire into the bribery practised in the late Elections at Liverpool - - - - - - 300
Lord Althorp, motion that the duties on Sugar should be continued for a year 300
Mr. Hume, regretting that there was to be no reduction - - - 301
The number of Beer-shops admitted to have increased the idleness and intemperance of the labouring classes - - - - 313
Lord Althorp signifying his intention to bring in a Bill for improving the Jury System in Ireland - - - - - - 313
Mr. O'Connell explaining the provisions of a Bill he intended to introduce on the same subject - - - - - - 313
Mr. Hume wishing to know if sinecure office of Master of Reports was filled up 313
Lord Althorp in reply - - - - - - 313
Mr. Hudson, Resolution for a graduated reduction in the salaries of all persons employed in the public service - - - - 313
Mr. Thomas Attwood in support of the motion - - - - 314
Mr. Hume disapproving of the shape of the motion, and recommending its withdrawal - - - - - - - 314
Lord Althorp objecting to the scale of the motion, and hoping Mr. Hudson would not press it at the present moment - - - - 314
Mr. Fielden giving a detail of the decline of wages among the Weavers in and around Manchester - - - - - - - 314
Mr. Hudson's motion withdrawn for the present - - - 314
Mr. Hume, motion for appointing a Committee to consider the inconvenience of the present House, and the necessity of erecting a new one - 314
Mr. Warburton seconding the motion - - - - - 315
Motion assented to by Lord Althorp - - - - - 315
Sir Robert Inglis, objecting to any alteration as quite unneeded - - 315
Mr. C. Fergusson, thinking Sir R. Inglis's argument a very strange one - 315
Mr. Buckingham, expressing his entire concurrence with Mr. Hume in thinking a New House indispensable - - - - - 315
Mr. Howard, following Sir R. Inglis, and contending that because the Romans never altered their Forum, neither should we our senate house - 317
Mr. O'Connell advocating the building of a New House - - 317
List of the Committee appointed - - - - - 317
Mr. Hume, motion for a return of all the forces scattered over the British Empire, with the stations, and numbers of each in every quarter - 317
Division on Mr. Hume's motion - - - - - 317
Discussion between Mr. Cobbett and Mr. S. Rice on the subject of Stamps 318
Mr. Hume, motion respecting the Sugar Duties - - - 319
Lord Althorp's speech in reply - - - - - - 319
Second Reading of the Irish Coercive Bill moved by Lord Althorp - 320
Mr. Hume's speech opposing the second reading - - - 320
Presentation of Petitions against the Coercive Bill - - - 322
Lord Althorp, motion for the first reading of the Bill for reforming the Temporalities of Irish Church, and appointing 2d reading for Wednesday 322
Mr. Baring's speech demanding more time for the consideration of its details 322
Division on the day fixed for the second reading - - - - 322
Adjourned Debate on the Irish Bill resumed - - - 322
Mr. Charles Buller's speech against the Bill - - - 323
Remarks on Mr. Buller's speech - - - - - 323
Mr. Hawkins' speech against the Bill - - - - - 324

Page
Lord Morpeth in favour of the Bill 325
Eloquence and Oratory of the members advocating the Bill.—Sound reasoning and argument in the speeches of those opposing it . . 325
Mr. Charles Grant's speech in support of the Bill 326
Remarks on Mr. Grant's speech, and the arguments used by the Ministers 327
Division on the second reading of the Irish Bill 330
Committee on the Liverpool Election 330
Mr. Ellice, details of the corupt practices in the borough of Stafford . 330
Mr. E. L. Bulwer, Bill for licensing Theatres 331
Mr. Jeffrey, Bill to regulate the Municipal Corporation of Scottish Burghs 331
Discussion on the mode and order of presenting petitions to the House . 331
The Irish Coercive Bill considered in Committee 332
Mr. O'Connell's motion to reserve the right of Petition and Trial by Jury, to His Majesty's subjects in Ireland 332
Mr. H. Grattan's speech in favour of Mr. O'Connell's motion . . 333
Division on Mr. O'Connell's motion 333
Remarks on the division 333
Proposition to postpone the consideration of the preamble to the Bill till after the clauses 334
Mr. O'Connell's speech, proposing that there should be added to the resolution for postponing the preamble, the words, "the same being an untrue recital" 334
Clamorous efforts to put down or render inaudible all the opposers of the Bill 334
Mr. Buckingham, on the subject of postponing the preamble . . 336
First clause of the Bill amended 337
Motion for certain returns connected with education; by Lord Brougham 383
Lord Brougham's speech on the motion 383
Lord Ellenborough's speech expressing his astonishment at the statements of the noble lord 385
Lord Brougham in reply 385
Remarks on the discussion on this subject 386
Complaints as to the impossibility of getting through the business of the House even under the new arrangement 386
Absolute necessity of some plan for economizing the time of the House . 386
Discussion as to whether the Irish Church Reform Bill ought not to have originated in a Committee of the whole House . . . 387
Mr. Hume's speech on moving the 2d reading of Sir J. Soane's Museum Bill 387
Sir Robert Inglis's speech in approbation of the Bill . . . 387
Irish Bill discussed in Committee 388
Mr. Hume's speech on the first clause in its amended form . . 388
Division on the amendment proposed on the first clause . . 389
Colonel Torrens, in opposition to the clause 389
Remarks on Colonel Torrens's Views 390
Extract of a letter from Sir J. C. Hobhouse to Lord Castlereagh . . 390
First, second, and third clauses of the Bill passed . . . 391
Presentation of petitions and report of the proceedings in the morning sitting of the House 391
Renewed proofs of the necessity for an improvement in the arrangement of the business of the House 393
Irish Coercion Bill discussed in Committee 393
Mr. T. Attwood advocating the suspension of all proceeding on this Bill until remedial measures had been tried 393
Mr. Lambert's speech on the subject of tithes 394
Lord Althorp in reply 394
Mr. Lambert's amendment carried 395
Debate on the subject of the Education Board in Ireland . . 395
Remarks on the course pursued by Ministers on this question . 397
Mr. Buxton's intended motion on Colonial Slavery postponed . . 397
Sir Andrew Agnew's motion for the better Observance of the Sabbath . 398
Announcement made by Lord Althorp, in answer to Mr. Hay, that a Commission had been appointed to examine into the state of the Excise Laws throughout the kingdom 398

Page

Mr. O'Connell, desiring to know if Government had any plan of Poor Laws for Ireland under consideration - - - - - 398
Lord Althorp in reply - - - - - - - - 398
Remarks on the necessity of a system of Poor Laws for Ireland - 398
Mr. Attwood's speech and amendment on the Irish Coercion Bill - - 399
Mr. Hume seconding the amendment - - - - - 399
Discussion on the 10th, or Court-Martial clause - - - - 400
Mr. Stanley's speech announcing the changes Ministers had consented to make in this clause - - - - - 400
Mr. C. Fergusson's speech against the clause - - - - 400
Mr. Serjeant Perrin's speech against the clause - - - 401
Mr. Abercrombie's speech in opposition to the clause - - - 402
Division on the 10th clause, and Remarks on it - - - 403
Suspension of the Irish Church Reform Bill - - - - 403
Remarks on Night Legislation - - - - - 404
Discussion on the perpetual postponement of motions - - - 405
Progress of the Irish Bill to the 22d clause - - - - 406
Discussion on the Malt and Hop Tax and Distress of the Labouring Classes 441
Sir W. Ingilby, bringing forward his motion for the repeal of Duty on Malt 441
Remarks on the question of repealing the duty on Malt and Hops, and the benefits likely to arise from it - - - - - 442
Lord Althorp's speech in reply - - - - - 444
Remarks on the view taken by the Chancellor of the Exchequer - - 444
Motion withdrawn until the 15th of May - - - - 445
Mr. T. Attwood's speech, introducing his motion for a Select Committee to enquire into the causes of the existing General Distress - 445
Remarks on Mr. Attwood's speech - - - - - 447
Lord Althorp, in opposition to the appointment of a Select Committee - 448
Remarks on the leading features of Lord Althorp's opposition - 450
Remarks on the heartlessness and utter want of feeling exhibited on various occasions by a large body of the Members - - - 451
Division on Mr. Attwood's motions - - - - - 452
Irish Coercive Bill discussed to the 24th clause - - - 452
Bill passed through the Committee - - - - - 453
Discussion of the Navy Estimates in a Committee of Supply - - 453
Mr. Hume, disapproving of the course pursued by Ministers respecting the Finances of the Country - - - - - - 453
Mr. Hume's motion for a Reduction of Taxation - - - 453
Motion opposed by Lord Althorp, and withdrawn - - - 454
Navy Estimates for the ensuing year, brought forward by Sir J. Graham - 454
Reduction of Expenditure during the last five years - - - 455
Fixed Expenditure in 1832 - - - - - 455
Sir J. Graham's motion "that 27,000 men, including marines, be voted for the service of the navy for the year ending 31st of March 1834 - 457
Sir E. Codrington on the gross injustice of the Naval Pension List - 457
Mr. Hume, proposing 20,000 men instead of 27,000 - - 457
Division on Sir J. Graham's motion - - - - - 457
Mr. Buckingham's reasons for voting with Ministers on Sir J. Graham's motion for a naval establishment of 27,000 men - - 457
Discussion on the vote for the pay of all the Navy, including the sinecure offices of Generals and Colonels of Marine - - - 558
Mr. Hume's motion for the abolition of these sinecures - - 458
Division on Mr. Hume's motion for reducing 6,900*l.*, the pay of seven generals and field officers of the Royal Marines - - - - 458
Discussion on Mr. Robinson's motion for a repeal of the taxes that press on industry, and the substitution of a property-tax in their stead - 459
Mr. Robinson's speech, introducing the motion - - - - 559
Mr. Warburton, in support of the motion - - - - 463
Lord Althorp, in opposition - - - - - - 463
Mr. Cobbett, considering a graduated property-tax neither more nor less than confiscation - - - - - - - 464
Remarks on the views taken by Lord Althorp and Mr. Cobbett - 464

Page
Col. Torrens in reply to Lord Althorp's speech - - - - 465
Mr. Poulett Thomson, in opposition to the motion - - - 466
Mr. Harvey, in reply - - - - - - - 467
Division on Mr. Robinson's motion - - - - 468
Report on the Irish Coercion Bill brought up - - - - 468
Third reading of the Bill fixed for Friday the 29th - - - 468
Sir J. Hobhouse's address on bringing forward the army estimates - 469
Sir J. Hobhouse's motion for the employment of a force of 89,419 men for the ensuing year - - - - - - 470
Mr. Hume, in reply to Sir J. Hobhouse's statement - - - 471
Mr. Hume's amendment, that the force be reduced to 81,164 men - 471
Lord Althorp, opposing Mr. Hume's amendment - - - - 471
Division reserved for the vote on the amount of pay - - - 471
Abstract of the discussion on the subject of Negro Emancipation - 505
Lord Suffield, in favour of total and immediate Emancipation - - 505
Lord Ellenborough, regretting that the House had not been called on at an earlier period to discuss this question - - - 506
Lord Suffield, alluding to a plan of emancipation published in the newspapers 506
Lord Goderich, in reply to Lord Suffield - - - - 506
Earl Fitzwilliam, trusting that the Government would not bring forward their measure until both branches of the Legislature could give it their undivided attention - - - - - - 506
The Duke of Buckingham, regretting that the measure had not been brought forward, and attributing the delay to the Government - - 507
Earl Grey, excusing the delay, on the ground of careful investigation - 507
Lord Brougham's speech, submitting to the House his Bill for the Establishment of Local Jurisdictions - - - - - - 509
Cabinet changes officially announced by Mr. Spring Rice - - 511
Discussion and division on the 3d reading of the Irish Coercive Bill - 511
Discussion on the amendments made in the Irish Coercive Bill - - 512
The Earl of Eldon, dissenting from the amendments unless he could be assured that a great improvement had taken place in Ireland - - 512
Earl Grey, in reply, justifying the amendments - - - 513
The Duke of Wellington, seeing no reason for exempting political offences from the jurisdiction of courts-martial - - - - 514
Earl Grey, in reply - - - - - - 514
The Duke of Wellington, objecting to the introduction of the proviso which rendered it unlawful for the Lord-Lieutenant to proclaim any county for the non-payment of tithes - - - - - - 516
Lord Brougham, in defence of the amendments - - - 516
Remarks on Lord Brougham's view of the amendments - - - 517
Bill, with its new features, adopted by the Peers - - - 518
Reform of the Church in Ireland, considered in Committee of the whole House 518
Resolutions proposed by Lord Althorp - - - - 518
Mr. Lefroy, in opposition to the resolutions - - - - 518
Mr. Pryme, in reply to Mr. Lefroy - - - - 518
Sir J. Hanmer, against the resolutions - - - - - 518
Mr. Shiel's speech in favour of them - - - - 519
Mr. Macauley, in defence of the measure proposed by the Government - 519
Singular interruption to the debate from the entry of a stranger into the House 520
Lord Althorp's resolutions relative to the Irish Church, carried through the House 520
The Repeal of the Mutiny Bill brought up - - - 520
Mr. Hume's motion for introducing a clause against corporeal punishment 520
Mr. Lennard, in support of the motion - - - - 520
Mr. R. Grant, stating his reasons for supporting the system of flogging - 520
Remarks on Mr. Grant's decision - - - - - 520
Lord Althorp, opposing Mr. Hume's amendment - - - 521
Sir Francis Burdett's speech in support of Mr. Hume - - - 521
Division on Mr. Hume's clause - - - - 522
Excessive exhaustion of the Members, and illness of many, arising from the severity of the labour and lateness of the hours of attendance - 522
Debate on Mr. Wilson Patten's motion for a Commission to collect evidence on the subject of Children employed in Factories - - 523

THE LEGISLATIVE RECORDER.

	Page
Definition of Parties in the House of Commons	30
List of Members, with the Parties to which they belong	31
Business of the House of Commons, from its opening to Feb. 5	35
Resolutions passed—Notices given for future Days	35
Report on the case of Mr. Pease, the Quaker Member for Durham	74
Business of the House of Commons, from Feb. 5 to Feb. 13	78
List of Members of House of Peers, with their Family, Names, and Dates of Creation	113
List of Members of the House of Commons, with their Addresses in Town	116
Business of the House of Commons, from Feb. 14 to Feb. 21	150
Minority on Mr. Hume's Motion against Military and Naval Sinecures	152
Proceedings of the House on the subject of facilitating its Business	297
Minority on Mr. D. W. Harvey's Motion for inserting in the Votes the Names of each Member in the Majority and Minority in Divisions	301
Business of the House of Commons, from Feb. 21 to March 7	302
Minority on Division for first reading of the Irish Coercion Bill	312
Minority on Mr. O'Connell's Motion on going into Committee on the Irish Disturbance Bill, to preserve to his Majesty's subjects in Ireland the trial by Judge and Jury	338
Business of the House of Commons, from March 7 to March 14	339
Business of the House of Commons, from March 14 to March 21	407
Minority on the 10th, or Court-Martial Clause, of Irish Disturbances' Bill	408
List of Members who voted against Ministers in negativing Mr. Lambert's amendment to the 4th Clause of the Bill, but who usually vote on the side of Ministers	408
Minority in favour of Mr. Thomas Attwood's Motion for a Committee to inquire into the Causes of the existing general Distress	472
Minority in favour of Mr. Hume's Motion for reducing £6,900, the pay of seven General and Field Officers of the Royal Marines	472
Business of the House of Commons, from March 22 to March 25	485
Business of the House of Commons, from March 25 to April 3	524
List of the Minority on Mr. Robinson's motion for a Reduction of Taxation, and substitution of a Property Tax	536

THE POLITICAL INDICATOR.

Taxation—Currency—Corn-Laws—East India Monopoly, and West India Slavery	82
Foreign Policy of Great Britain since the War	85
Practicability of limiting the time for Speeches in Parliament	201
Mr. Slaney's proposed Provisions for the Rural Enjoyments of the People	213
Speedy prospect of the Emancipation of the Jews	217
Measures to be pursued in reference to Ireland	219
Foreign Policy of Great Britain towards Belgium and Holland	222
Necessity of immediately passing a Poor-law Bill for Ireland	281
Prospects of the Duration of Lord Grey's Administration	345
Differences between the French and English "Movement Party"	346
Definition of the Englishman of the "Movement"	347
Powers of the Ministry to meet the wishes of the Country	349
Probable Ministerial Arrangements in case of Lord Grey's Resignation	350
Election for Marylebone, Characters of the Candidates and Constituents	359
Bill for the Reform of the Church in Ireland	377
Tithes, Evils of the Pasture System	377
Poor-laws in France, and Mode of administering them	378
Inefficiency and enormous Cost of the English System of Poor-laws	379
Establishment of a Poor-law in Ireland	381
Efforts of the Baron D'Haussez, in France, for the suppression of Mendicity	382
Cabinet Changes	471

Page
The East and West India Question—Approaching Extinction of Monopoly and Slavery - - - - - - - 473
Plan of the Government with regard to the East India Monopoly - - 473
Remarks on the Leading Features of the Plan - - - 475
Extract from the Report of the Meeting held by the Proprietors of East India Stock, to hear the official Correspondence read - - - 476
Letter of Mr. Poynder to the Times, on the subject of the Moral and Religious Improvement of India - - - - - 476
The West India Question - - - - - - - - 478
Remarks on the Right of the Slaveholders to Compensation - - 479
Facts and Arguments to prove the practicability of a Poor-rate in Ireland 472
Law passed in the time of Sir Philip Sidney, who governed Ireland in the reign of Queen Elizabeth - - - - - - 480
Mr. Montgomery Martin's Pamphlet on Poor-Laws - - - 480
Testimony of the Bishop of Kildare in support of a Legal Assessment for the Poor - - - - - - - 481
Principal Objection to the Introduction of a Poor-Law, viz. its tendency to augment the Population, refuted - - - - - - 481
Mr. Martin's Outline of a Law of Settlement and Rating - - 483
Immediate Abolition of Slavery, Great Public Meeting in London - 537
Increasing zeal of the Public in favour of the Abolition - - - 537
Account of the Meeting at Exeter Hall—Lord Suffield in the Chair - 537
Movers and Seconders of the Resolutions - - - - 538
Leading points of Mr. Buxton's Speech - - - - - 538
Extracts from a work, entitled, "Three Months in Jamaica," by Henry Whiteley - - - - - - - - 540
Public Meetings on the subject recommended, in preference to Petitions - 544
Evils that must arise, from a too implicit reliance on the Good Intentions of Ministers - - - - - - - - - 544
Diplomatic Expenditure of England—Its Costliness—Its Exclusiveness, &c. 545
Qualifications requisite for a Diplomatist - - - - - 545
General absence of the necessary Combination of Talent in the Diplomatic History of England - - - - - - - 545
The art of negociating, generally understood to be the art of intriguing - 546
A Diplomatic Career within the reach of all in every Country in Europe, excepting England - - - - - - - - 550
Pride and Sordidness of the English Aristocracy - - - 550
Ignorance and inefficiency of English Ambassadors - - - 552
Only effectual Cure for those Evils - - - - - 552
Principle and plan of a graduated tax on income and property combined - 571
Diplomatic Expenditure of England; No. 2. Its Costliness - - 590

THE BIOGRAPHICAL REPORTER.

Sketch of the Marquis of Conyngham and Lord Kinnaird—the Movers and Seconders of the Address in the House of Lords - - - 37
Sketch of Lord Ormelie and Mr. John Marshall—the Movers and Seconders of the Address in the House of Commons - - - - 38
Sketch of Joseph Buonaparte, the Count de Survilliers - - 178
Retirement of Lord Durham from the Ministry - - - - 409
Sketch of his Character as a Public Man - - - - - 409
Family and Personal History of Lord Durham - - - - 410
Part taken by him in the preparation of the Reform Bill - - 411
His Embassy to Russia, and view of Foreign Policy - - - 411
Hope of his speedy restoration to some one of the highest Offices of the State - - - - - - - - 412

THE SOCIAL REFORMER.

The question of National and Universal Education considered - - 161
Hostility of the Priesthood of almost every State Religion to the spread of knowledge - - - - - - - 162
A Legal Church Establishment no barrier against the influx of Heretical Opinions - - - - - - - 163

Page

Equal and undoubted right of the Poor with the Rich to the benefits of Education. - - - - - - - - - 165

THE ORIENTAL INVESTIGATOR.

Approaching Discussions on the East India Company's Charter - - 153
Early History of the East India Company and its transactions in India - 154
Letter of Cavendish to the Chamberlain of Queen Elizabeth - - 154
Conditions on which the original Charter of the Company was granted - 155
Character of the early Voyages of the Company, and their gains - 156
Charter renewed by King James for an unlimited period - - 158
Establishment of Factories by the Company's Agents at Surat - - 158
Wealth and Productions of the Country - - - - - 159
History of the East India Company's early Trade - - - 223
Royal Embassy of Sir Thomas Roe to the Court of the Great Mogul - 224
Massacre at Amboyna by the Dutch Company - - - 226
Debt of 200,000*l.* and fall of India Stock to 20 per cent. discount - 227
Discussions on the evil tendency of Monopolies in the reign of Charles I. - 228
Curious Petition of the East India Company for renewal of their Charter - 289
Desire of a portion of the Proprietors of India Stock to withdraw their capital, and trade on their own account - - - - - 293
Discussion on the subject between them and the Directors - - 293
Commission granted by Cromwell to the Merchant Adventurers - 294
Alarm of the Dutch Company at this event - - - - 294
The English Company's Possessions made over to the Merchant Adventurers for the sum of 20,000*l.* - - - - 294
New East India Charter, with enlarged powers, granted by Charles II. - 295
Commercial History of the East India Company's Monopoly - - 351
Excessive Embarrassments of the Company - - - 351
Strenuous Endeavours of the Company to suppress all private Trade - 352
Case of oppressions suffered by Thomas Skinner, a British Merchant - 352
Contrast between the poverty and ill success of the Company, and the prosperity of all other branches of Trade at the same period - - 353
Commencement of the Trade with China. First order sent out for Tea - 354
Amount of the Company's Debt in 1676 - - - 354
Increase of their Arbitrary Power - - - - 355
State of the Presidency of Surat - - - - - 356
Bribes given by the Company to men in power - - - 356
Attempt of the Old Company to get their Charter renewed by Government 356
Charter granted to the New Company as the highest Bidders - - 356
Successful efforts of the Company to obtain the favour of the Great Mogul 357
Circumstances under which they first obtained possession of Calcutta - 357
Construction of Fort William - - - - - 357
Union of the Two Companies in the reign of Queen Anne - - 358
Territorial Acquisitions of the East India Company - - - 413
Force and Fraud the only modes by which the territorial conquests of the Company have been achieved - - - - - 414
Advice of Ali Verdi Khan, one of the Native Rulers of Bengal, to his Son on his death-bed - - - - - - - 415
Lord Clive's Account of a fictitious Treaty with a Native named Omichund, for the purpose of fomenting a rebellion against Meer Jaffier - - 415
Minutes of a Select Committee held at Fort William, on Sept. 15th, 1760 - 417
Minutes of the Secret Committee held at the same place, on Sept. 15, 1760 417
Deposition of Meer Jaffier - - - - - - - 418
Extracts of a Letter to the Directors at home, signed by Messrs. Coote, Amyatt, Carnac, &c. protesting against it - - - 418
Reward bestowed on Mr. Vansittart by Company, for his treacherous conduct 419
Copy of a Letter from the Court of Directors to the President and Council of Bengal, May 1763 - - - - - 419
Cruelties practised on the Natives of India, and plunder of their Sovereigns 489
Official Despatch of Col. Munro, describing his own cruelties - - 489

Page
Summary of the Events which marked the end of Meer Jaffier's reign, from Mr. Parker's History - - - - - 490
Letter of Lord Clive to the Chairman of the Court of Directors, April 1765; on the flourishing condition of the Company's affairs in India - 491
Treaty between Shujah Dowla and the Company - - - 492
Lord Clive's Account of his successful negociation to the Court of Directors 493
Account of the Sums acknowledged, or proved before the Committee of the House of Commons, to have been distributed by the Princes and Natives of Bengal, from the year 1757 to 1766 - - - 494
Concluding Chapter on the Cruelties of our Territorial Government in India 601

THE COMMERCIAL ENQUIRER.

The Question of South Carolina—Agriculture, Commerce, & Manufactures 89
Ignorance on the subject of American Policy - - - 90
America continuing to be an Agricultural Country desirable for England - 92

THE RETROSPECTIVE TRAVELLER.

First Departure from England, on a Voyage to the Mediterranean Sea - 40
Passing through the Needles at the Isle of Wight - - - 41
Appearance of Cape St. Vincent, on the Coast of Portugal - - 42
Lines of Camoens in allusion to the bones of St. Vincent - - 42
Early History of the kingdom of Portugal - - - 43
Account of Camoens, the Portuguese poet - - - - 43
Foundation of the Town of Sagres - - - - - 44
Pillars of Hercules, and rock of Gibraltar - - - - 45
Entrance to the Mediterranean Sea—the Bay of Gibraltar - - 97
Independence of Spain established - - - - - 98
Hume's Remarks on the Union of the kingdoms of Castile and Arragon - 99
Reasons for Great Britain's taking no part in the early Voyages of Discovery 99
Fortifications of the Bay of Gibraltar - - - - 100
Height and appearance of the Rock of Gibraltar - - - - 100
Town of Gibraltar—Siege of the Rock—Voyage to Sicily - - 168
Description of the Andalusian Women - - - - - 168
Costume of the Spanish Peasantry - - - - 169
Floating Batteries used by the Spaniards in bombarding Gibraltar - 172
Intrepid defence of the Garrison by General Elliott - - - 172
Generous humanity of the victors - - - - - 173
Description of Centa on the African Coast - - - - - 174
Characters of Don Pedro, Duke of Coimbra, and Don Henry, Duke of Viseo 175
Islands of Majorca, Minorca, Sardinia, Sicily, and Carthage - - 229
Introduction of the arts into Rome - - - - 233
Skill of the Carthaginians in Ship Building - - - - - 234
Maritime power of Carthage - - - - - - 235
Voyage of Nearchus - - - - - - - - 235
Voyage of Hanud - - - - - - - - 236
Polybius's Account of the Naval Actions of Carthage - - - 236
Immense Flights of Locusts in the East—Islands of Pantellaria, Sicily, Gozo, and Malta - - - - - - - 366
Description of the Locust, and its dreadful devastations - - - 366
Description of Pantellaria and its productions - - - - 368
Sketch of the History of Sicily - - - - - 368
Sicily, the Principal Region of Classic Fable - - - - 370
Probability of all these Fables having been originally founded in truth - 370
The Cyclops - - - - - - - - - 370
The Sirens - - - - - - - - - 373
The Faro of Messina—Scylla and Charybdis - - - - - 373
Detention in the Channel between Sicily and Malta - - - - 374
Entrance to the Harbour of Lavalette - - - - - 375
History of Malta—Manners and Customs, Fanaticism, &c. - - - 425
Homer's allusion to the Island of Malta - - - - 425
Geographical Situation of Malta - - - - - 428

Page
Character of the Maltese.—Costume of the Inhabitants - 429
Attachment of the Maltese to their Country - 429
Description of the Maltese Women - 429
Ancient and Modern Customs and Ceremonies - 430
Marriages, and description of a Maltese Wedding - 430
Funeral Ceremonies - 431
Grand Festival of St. John's Day - 433
St. Peter's Day, and the Carnival - 433
Language spoken by the Maltese - 434
Removal of the Silver Gates of the Great Church of St. John of Jerusalem - 435
Anecdote of the Jews at the time of the Plague - 436
Voyage from Malta through the Greek Islands.—Pirates, Storms, Scenery - 553
Island of Cerigo, the ancient Cytherea - 553
Moore's Ode—The Fall of Hebe - 554
Archipelago—Crowded with Privateers and Pirates - 554
Description of an Engagement with a Pirate Vessel - 555
Boisterous Weather off Christiana - 558
History of the Island of Santoun - 558
History of Candia—the ancient Crete - 561
Lines from Falconer's Shipwreck - 564
Entering the Harbour of Milo - 565
Visit from the Brother of the English Consul and his Son - 566

THE LITERARY EXPOSITOR.

Distresses of England and Ireland, and causes of both - 92
The Misery of Ireland not caused by the pressure of Taxation - 93
Remedies proposed for the relief of Ireland - 94
Six Weeks in the Loire, with a Peep into La Vendée - 296
Records of a Voyage to the Western Coast of Africa, in H. M. S. Dryad - 296
The Waverley Anecdotes, illustrative of the incidents, characters, and scenery, described in the Novels and Romances of Sir Walter Scott - 375

THE SCRIPTURAL ILLUSTRATOR.

Exodus, c. 33, v. 4, 8, and 12 - 46, 47
Mark, c. 10, v. 1, 4, 12, and 32 - 47, 48
Exodus, c. 34, v. 2 and 20 - 47
2 Corinthians, c. 6, v. 7 - 48
Numbers, c. 23, v. 1, 11, 15, 28, 31, and 36 - 101-103
Luke, c. 39, v. 26 and 39 - 103, 104
Numbers, c. 23, v. 1 - 104
1 Corinthians, c. 13 - 105
Psalms, 86 to 89 - 105
Psalms, v. 7, and Ps. 55, v. 17. - 106
Reasons for altering the original plan of the Scriptural Illustrator - 176
Genesis, Chap. 1. First Formation of the World, and beautiful Harmony of the Creation - 361
Similarity between the description of the Origin of Creation, in the Sacred Writings of the Ancient Egyptians, and in the Bible - 362
The "Spirit of God moving on the Face of the Waters" - 362
The Division of Time - 362
The command to "Be Fruitful and Multiply, and replenish the Earth" - 363
Strong authority for the opinion that vegetable productions, and the fruits of the earth, were originally alone intended for the food of man - 363
Instances in proof that animal food is not essential to preservation of strength 364
Genesis, Chapter 2. Creation of Man, causes of the distinctions between different races - 495
Derivation and signification of the name Adam - 495
Greek Tradition respecting the Creation of Man - 495
Ancient belief that life is in the blood, verified by the discoveries of modern science - 495

	Page
The Anatomical Structure of Man	497
Causes of the different varieties in the existing family of mankind	497
The ancient Egyptians of the Negro race	500

THE FRIENDLY COMMUNICATOR.

Inequality and injustice of the present system of taxation	49
Proposal for an equitable Property-Tax	50
Evils of Foreign Loans	51
Ought Magistrates to be Coroners?	51
Lines from Voltaire's Henriade	52
Letter to Lord Grey on the state of Ireland	106
Illustration of Sir Walter Scott's Quentin Durward, No. 1	181
Letter from Dublin on various subjects of policy	183
Evil effects of Local Landed Monopoly	238
Taxes on Knowledge, stamps on newspapers, advertisements, &c.	239
Necessity of Protective Measures for Ireland	242
Taxes on Knowledge, postage of newspapers for the country	243
Statistics of America	244
Rents in Ireland	244
Curiosity respecting the writers of the letters from Dublin	245
Illustrations of Sir Walter Scott's Quentin Durward, No. 2	310
Letters from Dublin on the existing state of Ireland	420
Baneful influence of its ecclesiastical establishment	420
Character of the Irish people	421
Chief causes of the misery of the Irish peasantry	422
The Grand Jury System and Church Cess	422
Reduction of the Bishops	423
Separation of the Church and State	423
Coercive measures requisite for the preservation of life and property in Ireland	423
Connexion between the outrages committed and the political agitation of the repeal question	423
Reply of the Editor	424
Letter from York on the evils of the landed monopoly	437
Letter from Hull on the impolicy of the present scale of duties on foreign timbers	438
Letter from Hull on the premium given to foreign labourers, to the injury of English workmen	567
Letter from Leeds on the inefficient arguments used against an income on Property-Tax	567
Plan for advantageously employing the agricultural population of Ireland	612
Provision for the exiled Poles. Advantages of the Cottage Farm System	613

THE FAMILY ENTERTAINER.

The Fate of Courtiers	Warwick	39
True Kingly Ambition	Lacon	53
Philosophy of Patience	La Bruyère	53
Duration of Impressions	Wieland	53
Source of Sympathy	Pascal	53
Individual Humility	Montaigne	53
Readiness for Death	Warwick	54
True sources of Kingly Strength	Raleigh	54
Worldly Emulation and Christian Ambition	Lacon	54
Nature of Time	Jenyns	54
Sources of True Enjoyment	Hume	55
Character of an Antiquary	Butler	55
Analogy of things material and intellectual	Jenyns	55
Night	Browne	56
Morning	Hunt	56

		Page
Contemporaneous and Posthumous Fame	Lacon	81
Freedom of the Press	Erskine	88
Prejudice the Spider of the Mind	Retrospective	111
Death and Liberty	Montaigne	111
True contentment based in moderation	Colton	112
African Interment	Cowley	112
Debilitating Effects of Passion	Lavater	112
Education among the Greeks	Dryden	112
Letter of Plutarch to Trajan	Plutarch	167
Humour	Goëthe	167
Reasons for altering the original arrangement of the Family Entertainer	Editor	177
Character of a Noble Spirit	Overbury	216
Religious Persecution	Anonymous	216
Kingly Duty of Submission	Raleigh	218
Pure Friendship	La Bruyère	222
Characteristics of Childhood	Chambers	237
Progressive Stages of Life	Raleigh	241
Pleasures of Study	Lander	245
Force of Prejudice	Anonymous	245
Privileges of women in the olden time	Gray	246
Influence of women in the present time	Buckingham	246
Modesty of True Wisdom	Anonymous	246
Character of a Melancholy Man	Overbury	288
Degrees of Confidence	Lavater	295
Nature, Reason, and Religion	Warwick	295
Character of a Pedant	Butler	309
Prosperity and Adversity	Bacon	343
A Parent's Prayer	Cornwall	372
Old Pastoral	Browne	372
Shadowy Nature of Pleasure	Warwick	382
Indications of a Great Mind	Blair	436
Familiar Objects	Sulzer	436
Signs and Symptoms of Good Minds	Bacon	436
Physiognomy	Gellert	437
Metaphysics	Aristotle	439
Stanzas, adapted to the air of "Montalembert"	Buckingham	440
Criminal Law	Coke	501
Protestant Persecution	Legislative	501
The Demoralizing Influence of War	Lacon	502
The People's share of the Government	Locke	502
Prince versus People	Locke	502
A Citizen Soldier	Blackstone	502
A Professional Soldier	Anonymous	502
Humanity	Lavater	502
A Royal Philosopher	Anonymous	503
Prevention rather than Punishment	Coke	503
The Lights and Shades of Life	Southwell	503
Freedom and Virtue	Jones	503
Canzonette	Anonymous	504
Hope	Anonymous	505
Complaisance	Addison	566
Locusts	Cytheron	568
The Wise Man has his Follies	Anonymous	590
The Advantages of Learning	Bacon	599
Evil Speaking	Warwick	599
History	Dryden	600
Law	Hooker	600
True Valour	Cornwallis	600
Slavery	Sir W. Jones	600

Page
81
88
ve 111
111
112
112
112
112
167
167
177
216
216
218
222
237
241
245
245
246
m 246
246
288
295
295
309
343
372
372
382
436
436
436
437
439
440
501
501
502
502
502
502
502
502
503
503
503
503
504
505
566
568
599
599
599
600
600
600
600